5. Complex Use Cases & Observations

5.1 User-Generated Content (UGC) System

Complexity: HIGH

CougarDips.com has a significant UGC component that sets it apart from other RAI brand sites:

- Employee of the Month Program: Users submit photos of their work for a chance to win $1,000/month ($12,000/year total). Includes photo upload, moderation workflow, gallery display, voting/selection, and winner announcement.
- Show Your Work Gallery: Standalone UGC gallery where users share content. Features upload, gallery grid, lazy loading, and user attribution.
- Content Moderation: Implied by Submission Guidelines link and Terms of Use content moderation section. Likely involves backend review workflow before content appears publicly.

Migration Considerations: - UGC upload/submission forms would need custom EDS block development - Image storage and moderation workflows would require headless API integration - Gallery grid with lazy loading and "Load More" pagination is a custom interactive component - Winner selection and announcement workflow may be manual/backend-driven

5.2 Personalized Coupon System

Complexity: HIGH

The coupon system is personalized per user and integrates with the Brand Site API:

- Coupons are dynamically loaded based on authenticated user profile
- "2 coupons available for you!" - personalized messaging
- Mail/Mobile delivery options suggest integration with a coupon fulfillment system
- 4-step receipt upload and redemption process implies a multi-step workflow
- Legal terms and conditions are coupon-specific

Migration Considerations: - Coupon display requires API integration with the Brand Site API - Receipt upload functionality needs custom block development - Personalization based on user profile/location/history - Mail fulfillment implies physical coupon printing and mailing system

5.3 Age Gate and Authentication

Complexity: HIGH

Standard RAI cross-brand authentication but with some unique aspects:

- VIA/SSO shared login across all RAI brand sites
- MFA enforcement for profile access (one-time passcode via email)
- `securePage()` JavaScript function enforces authentication on all `/secure/` paths
- State selection visible on profile page suggests geo-specific content/offers
- Session management with API endpoint for login verification

Migration Considerations: - Age gate must be implemented as a pre-rendering check - SSO integration needs coordination across multiple brand properties - MFA flow requires email delivery and verification logic - Profile data likely stored in centralized RAI identity system

5.4 Google Maps Store Locator

Complexity: MEDIUM-HIGH

- Google Maps JavaScript API with custom styling and markers
- Zip code search with geocoding
- HTML5 Geolocation API ("Use My Location")
- Store data likely fetched from Brand Site API or dedicated service
- Results displayed as list with distance calculations

Migration Considerations: - Google Maps API key management and billing - Store database/API integration - Geolocation permission handling - Custom map styling to match brand design

5.5 Salesforce Live Chat Integration

Complexity: MEDIUM

- Salesforce Embedded Service Chat via `bat-us.my.site.com/ESWLiveChatCougar`
- Pre-chat API detected in console logs
- Floating chat widget appears on some pages
- Integration with Salesforce Service Cloud for agent routing

Migration Considerations: - Salesforce chat snippet embedding in EDS - Pre-chat form/API integration - Chat availability hours management - Page-specific chat activation rules

5.6 Seasonal/Expiring Promotions

Observation: The “Cougar Tech Works” promotion linked from the homepage returned a 404 error, indicating it has expired or been removed. However, the homepage still references it with two prominent promotional sections.

Implication: Content management must account for promotional lifecycle: - Promotions have start/end dates - Homepage content references may outlive promotion pages - Official Rules, FAQ, and Winners pages associated with promotions need lifecycle management - Employee of the Month has been running since at least July 2024 (earliest winner shown)

5.7 Console Warnings and Technical Debt

Observed Issues: - `TypeError: w[l].push is not a function` - Occurs on every page, suggests a global JavaScript conflict - `Tabs: container utilities at window.CQ.CoreComponents.container.utils are not available`

- AEM Core Components configuration issue -

Failed to load resource: 404 - Missing resources on some pages - Refused to execute script from 'undefined' - Script source resolution failures on Contact Us page

Migration Opportunity: These console errors indicate technical debt that could be resolved during EDS migration, resulting in a cleaner, more performant codebase.

5.8 Brand Design Language

Typography: - Primary font: Fira Sans (Google Fonts, weight 900) - used for bold headings - Secondary font: Saira Semi Condensed (Google Fonts, weights 600, 800) - used for subheadings and accent text

- Adobe Typekit kit (1wx6gwj.css) provides additional brand fonts

Color Palette: - Primary: Dark/Black (#000000 or near-black) backgrounds - Accent: Burnt orange/brown (#C25400 or similar) for CTAs and highlights - Text: White on dark backgrounds, dark on light backgrounds - Warning: Black and white high-contrast for health warning banner

Design Style: - Rugged, masculine aesthetic appropriate for moist snuff brand - Heavy use of dark backgrounds with light text - Industrial/workwear imagery (aligned with “Employee of the Month” working theme) - Compact layout with minimal whitespace

Most Likely (standard scope, moderate integration complexity)	90	9-10 weeks
Pessimistic (scope additions, integration challenges, UGC complexity)	110	11-12 weeks

Key Risk Factors

1. UGC System Complexity: Photo upload, moderation, and gallery display may require more custom development than estimated if the existing backend API is not well-documented
2. Coupon Personalization: Deep integration with coupon fulfillment system; receipt upload workflow may have undocumented requirements
3. Authentication/SSO: Cross-brand SSO coordination involves multiple stakeholders and may have dependencies on other brand site timelines
4. Seasonal Content Lifecycle: Promotional content management (Employee of the Month, Cougar Tech Works) needs a clear lifecycle strategy
5. Salesforce Chat: Integration complexity depends on Salesforce configuration and may require Salesforce admin involvement
